SYSTEM OF STUDIES

PREPARATORY TO ADMISSION

INTO THE UNIVERSITY.

APPLICANTS for admission into the Freshman Class, are required to sustain a satisfactory examination on the Grammar of the English, Latin and Greek Languages, including Latin Prosody; Mair's Introduction; Cæsar's Commentaries (5 Books); Ovid's Metamorphoses, (Gould's Edition—extracts from the first six Books); Virgil's Bucolics and six Books of the Æneid; Sallust; Greek Testament (St. John's Gospel and the Acts of the Apostles); Græca Minora, or Greek Reader; Arithmetic (Emerson's 3d Part); and Worcester's Elements of Ancient and Modern Geography.

The importance of an earnest and full compliance with these requisitions, cannot be too strongly impressed upon the attention of Parents and Guardians. If they desire that their sons and wards shall attain sound scholarship, they must look well to the foundation on which the superstructure is to be reared. If this duty be neglected, let it be remembered, that on them rests the responsibility.

Of the Preparatory Studies, the branches on which Candidates for admission into College are frequently found either wholly deficient or imperfectly prepared, are Arithmetic, Ancient Geography and Prosody.—The use of Emerson's Third Part, Worcester's Geography, with an accompanying Atlas, and Hooper's Prosody, is recommended to Instructors who are preparing Students for the University.

Composition and Declamation are attended to throughout the whole Collegiate course. Instruction in the Spanish Language will be given to those who desire it. All the Classes are required to attend Divine Worship in the Chapel, on Sunday, at 11 o'clock, A. M. and in the evening, to recite on the evidences of Natural and Revealed Religion, and on the Historical parts of the Old and New Testaments.

The instruction of the Freshman Class is confided principally to the Tutor of Ancient Languages and the Tutor of Mathematics. This and the Sophomore Class, being more numerous than at any period heretofore, recite in two divisions, each division occupying an hour. Their recitations are consequently continued through six hours, on three days in the week, and through four hours, on Mondays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

The Sophomore Class is instructed in Latin by the Professor of Ancient Languages; in Greek, by the Professor of Modern Languages; and in Mathematics, by the Professor of Mathematics and Natural Philosophy.

The Junior Class is instructed in Latin and Greek by the Professor of Ancient Languages; in French, by the Professor of Modern Languages; in Mathematics, by the Professor in that department; in Rhetoric and History, by the Professor of Chemistry; and in Composition, by the President.

A regular course of Lectures, illustrated by appropriate experiments, and the exhibition of specimens, is delivered to the Senior Class, on Chemistry, Mineralogy and Geology, and occasional Lectures on the other departments of Natural History, and on Technology, by the Professor of Chemistry. This Class completes the prescribed course of study in Latin and Greek, under the instruction of the Professor of Ancient Languages, and in French, under the instruction of the Professor of Modern Languages. Astronomy is studied under the direction of the Professor of Mathematics; and instruction in Political Economy, Mental and Moral Philosophy, and National and Constitutional Law, is given by the President.

THE ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT

Is on the fourth Thursday in June.—Candidates for admission are examined on Wednesday, eight days previous.

 The Philanthropic and Dialectic Societies alternately select one of their Members to deliver an Address before the two bodies, on the day preceding the COMMENCEMENT.
